

A Beacon of Excellence as Hikvision's Number One Distributor

It's with great pride that we announce Sensor Security has once again been named Hikvision's South African Distributor of the Year for an exceptional fifth consecutive year. This achievement, along with the many other accolades we've received from Hikvision over the years, reflects the commitment, innovation and excellence we bring to the security industry.

From setting new records in sales to enhancing training, customer support and service, our awards are a result of the sustained effort and dedication of the entire Sensor Security team.

We extend our deepest gratitude to our team, partners, and customers for their ongoing trust, support and collaboration. These awards are not just ours; they are a shared accomplishment, and we look forward to continuing this journey with you.
